WILLIAMS advised he knew nothing of an unfavorable nature concerning the appointee or his family and highly recommended the appointee for a position of trust and responsibility with the United States Government.

ASSOCIATE:

(2) On August 4, 1971, Mr. M. SCOTT CARPENTER, President, Sea Sciences Corporation, 9841 Airport Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, advised SA RICHARD M. WOOLF that he first met the appointee, ALAN BARTLETT SHEPARD, JR., in 1959 in connection with their mutual assignment to NASA and the space program. CARPENTER advised that he and the appointee subsequently worked closely together in the space program for the next eight years. CARPENTER described this relationship as being a close, working relationship as well as a close personal relationship. CARPENTER said he knew the appointee's wife, LOUISE, very well and described her as being a very fine woman. He also has casually met the appointee's parents. He knew appointee's [redacted] and also knew that the appointee and appointee's wife were raising [redacted] who apparently was [redacted] of the appointee's [redacted]. He advised that the appointee had a very nice family and only knew favorable information concerning them.

CARPENTER said the appointee is a very bright individual with a lot of natural ability and who, of course, has a national reputation on the basis of his participation in the space program. He described the appointee as being of excellent moral character, reputation and associates. He knows appointee to be a loyal American Citizen and highly recommended the appointee for a position of trust and confidence with the United States Government.

CARPENTER advised that while the above comments represent his true feelings about the appointee, he currently is involved in a legal suit involving appointee and has some reason to believe that he possibly has been "swindled" by the appointee. CARPENTER requested that his attorney, [redacted] Houston, Texas, of the law firm WOODY-ROSEN, be contacted for details concerning this legal dispute. CARPENTER said that this dispute generally involves the following:

b7C

The appointee and the other astronauts all purchased stock in a bank. At appointee's suggestion, CARPENTER took out a substantial loan at this bank. Subsequently, and without CARPENTER's knowledge, the appointee sold his own stock in this bank as well as the stock of the other astronauts. Shortly thereafter, and apparently as a result of the stock sale of the other astronauts, the value of the bank stock was greatly reduced. CARPENTER was unable to pay the debt owed to the bank, and as a result the bank has brought suit against him. CARPENTER said he asked appointee why he did not tell him that he was selling his own stock and the stock of the other astronauts involved.

The appointee explained that he had "forgotten" that CARPENTER still had stock in the bank.

CARPENTER said his attorney, [redacted] advised him that it was her opinion that he had been "swindled" by the appointee in recommending that he take out the loan at the bank and then subsequently not advising him that the stock of the other astronauts in the bank had been sold. The attorney recommended that if CARPENTER were sued by the bank for the debt, that CARPENTER, in turn, should bring suit against the appointee.

CARPENTER said he recently was in Houston, Texas, and discussed this matter with the appointee. He explained to the appointee that he probably would bring suit against him in connection with this matter. CARPENTER advised that this matter currently is in the Houston Courts.

CARPENTER stated that he continues to have high regard for the appointee as a person and for his ability in spite of this controversy and tries to view this matter as a business and legal problem which is separate and distinct from their past, personal relationship.

An article, dated September 19, 1969, in the Houston Chronicle, sets out that the appointee, ALAN BARTLETT SHEPARD, JR., has joined the Los Angeles Brokerage Firm of THOMAS, POWER, and COOGAN, as a non-voting partner.

(3) On August 6, 1971, [redacted] in the firm of THOMAS, POWER, and COOGAN, who resides at [redacted] South Pasadena, California, advised SA [redacted] that he first became acquainted with the appointee, ALAN BARTLETT SHEPARD, JR., when the appointee purchased some stock from his firm. After the above purchase his firm had a publicity dinner for the appointee and that was the extent of their association. To the best of his knowledge, the appointee has never actually brought any business to the firm directly; however, since they did make known the fact that the appointee was a shareholder in the firm his name may have attracted some business. The appointee was never a partner of this firm and he was never an employee. b6

b6
b7C

LA 161-2011

[redacted] advised that the appointee was a shareholder in this company and invested approximately $10,000 in it. He continues to hold the stock that he purchased. - He was never a member of the firm. The appointee purchased his stock in THOMAS, POWERS, and COOGAN, during the Summer or Fall of 1969 and he has had little or no contact with the firm since that time.

[redacted] met the appointee on only one occasion and advised that he considers the appointee to be a very determined, enthusiastic, interesting individual. He believes the appointee to be honest, very intelligent, and dependable, and of high integrity. He provided no unfavorable information concerning the appointee and highly recommended the appointee for a position of trust and responsibility with the United States Government.

White House Offices (WHO)

The following investigation at WHO was conducted by Special Agent GEORGE E. SAUNDERS on August 6, 1971.

The files of the Personnel Office and Records Office, WHO contain no record of the appointee, ALAN B. SHEPARD.

(1) WILLIAM A. ANDERS, Executive Secretary, National Aeronautics and Space Council, advised he has known the appointee since 1964, through their positions as astronauts assigned to the Manned Space Craft Center, Houston, Texas. Their social contact has been very limited. ANDERS considered the appointee a highly intelligent, capable, dedicated person, whose professional reputation precedes him. His comments are completely favorable concerning the appointee's character, associates, reputation and loyalty and highly recommends the appointee to a position of trust and confidence.

NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION (NASA)

Mr. CHARLES W. MATHEWS, Deputy Associate Administrator, Office of Manned Space Flight, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) advised Special Agent (SA) FORREST F. BURGESS as follows on August 3, 1971:

He has seen ALAN SHEPARD intermittently on a professional basis starting from around 1959. Initially the astronauts were under Mr. MATHEWS' cognizance for a short time. Mr. MATHEWS, as Director of Gemini, met with several astronauts, including SHEPARD, however, SHEPARD was not an active astronaut at that time. Later SHEPARD became in charge of the astronaut office. He developed an inner ear problem that affected his balance around 1962, however, he overcame this and became an active astronaut again in 1969 and made a flight to the Moon about 6 months ago. He has returned as the Chief of the astronauts and has again become an inactive astronaut. Basically he is a personable, well developed person. He is vigorous and impersonable about his approach to any problem. He is a "cool, calm and collective type of person." He speaks well and is articulate. He is "a loner" type of person, however, he does have a wide circle of friends on whom he is not dependent and who in turn are not dependent on him. He has made many professional and social contacts in the quest of his career. He has a sharp mind--one of the sharpest minds of all the astronauts. He is completely trustworthy and stable. His character and reputation are above reproach and his loyalty to his country unquestionable. No information of a derogatory nature concerning him has come to Mr. MATHEWS' attention nor does Mr. MATHEWS have any knowledge of any objectionable habits on the part of Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. MATHEWS highly recommended Mr. SHEPARD for a position of responsibility and trust with the United States Government.

Mr. CHARLES J. DONLAN, Deputy Associate Administrator, (Technical), Office of Manned Space Flight, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, (NASA), advised SA FORREST F. BURGESS on August 4, 1971. He has known ALLAN SHEPARD since around February, 1959. ~~Mr. DONLAN made the original flight of the seven astronauts.~~ Mr. DONLAN had a professional association with the appointee, Mr. SHEPARD, for two years, from 1959 to 1961, when Mr. DONLAN was Director of a Space Task Force at Langley. He has only seen the appointee occasionally, subsequent to 1961. The appointee is an extremely competent person. He is very intelligent and one of the smartest of the astronauts in the United States. He has strong personal likes and dislikes, but he had a predominant desire to be an astronaut and made his first flight into space in May, 1961. Around 1962 he had an inner ear problem which affected his balance and became an inactive astronaut. At this time he was placed in charge of the Office for Astronauts, ~~and they reported to him true documentation and "sheer doggedness".~~ He overcame his ear problem and again was able to become an active astronaut. He made another flight into space around January, 1971.

As far as Mr. DONLAN knows his character and reputation are above reproach and his loyalty to the United States is unquestionable. He has a good reputation and has a fine relationship in his own family. No information of a derogatory nature concerning him has come to Mr. DONLAN'S attention, nor has he observed the appointee to have any questionable habits. Mr. DONLAN indicated he would not hesitate to highly recommend the appointee for a position of responsibility and trust in the United States Government.

Texas Senators

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent RICHARD T. TAYLOR, JR., on August 3, 1971.

Senator JOHN G. TOWER, advised his knowledge of the appointee, ALAN BARTLETT SHEPARD, was gained primarily as a result of the appointee's achievements as an Astronaut and Career Naval Officer. He has met him on a few occasions, but knows nothing of his personal life. He is certain there is no question concerning his loyalty to the United States, nor as to his reputation and suitability for a high Federal post. He endorsed him without reservation to any position to which President NIXON may care to appoint him.

[redacted] to Senator LLOYD BENTSEN, advised the Senator is not presently available for interview. He said he is authorized to furnish the following information in his absence. Senator BENTSEN has no close personal relationship with the appointee. He knows of no unfavorable information concerning his character, associates, reputation or loyalty. He enterposes no objection for his selection for a high Federal post,

On August 4, 1971, WESLEY L. HJORNEVIK, Deputy Administrator, Office of Economic Opportunity, advised he has known ALAN BARTLETT SHEPARD since 1961, when he was the Associate Director of the Manned Spacecraft Center, in Houston, Texas. He worked closely with SHEPARD when he was Director of Astronaut Offices, at Houston and considers him to be a highly responsible person who has a great deal of management ability. He never had the occasion to associate with SHEPARD on a social basis and knows little of his personal background. His character, loyalty and professional ability are above reproach and would highly recommend for any position to which President NIXON, may care to appoint him.

Mr. MICHAEL COLLINS, former astronaut, currently Director of the Air and Space Museum, Smithsonian Institute, was contacted on August 4, 1971, at which time he advised he has known ALAN BARTLETT SHEPARD, for about eight years, in both a professional and social capacity. He is an individual who possesses a great deal of ability and commands respect and admiration from all who come in contact with him. He is certain there is no question as to SHEPARD'S loyalty or character and would do an excellent job in any high Federal post, therefor he would give his highest endorsement to him concerning any position he may be appointed to. He knows SHEPARD'S wife and [redacted] well and thinks very highly of all of them. He has never heard any derogatory comments from any quarters regarding any member of his family and considers all of them to be fine upstanding citizens who enjoy excellent reputations.

Pierre Salinger, Press Secretary at the White House, called. He said he had received a rather disjointed story over the telephone from [redacted] of the "New York Mirror." She told Salinger that last Monday evening, 5/8/61, a kinescope copy of the TV coverage of Alan Shepard's press conference had been secured in New York. This film was reportedly altered by erasing the answers which Commander Shepard gave at the press conference and having an actor substitute other answers to the questions. These altered answers are said to have put Commander Shepard in an unfavorable light.

Salinger indicated that if this story were true, it would appear it might have some connection with a propaganda effort to discredit the United States. Salinger asked if we would interview Natalie Tirrano and determine the facts with reference to this report.

ACTION BEING TAKEN:

In view of the White House interest in this matter it is believed that we should comply with Salinger's request and instruct the New York Office to investigate.

ALLEGED ALTERATION OF TELEVISION FILM OF
PRESS CONFERENCE WITH COMMANDER ALAN SHEPARD

On 5-10-61, the Bureau received an allegation concerning a television film that was made at the press conference with Commander Alan Shepard following his space flight. The film was reportedly altered by erasing the answers which Commander Shepard gave and having an actor substitute other answers to the questions. The altered answers reportedly put Commander Shepard in an unfavorable light.

Contacts with appropriate officials of leading news media in New York City did not develop any information concerning the allegations. Individuals contacted indicated that they had no information concerning such alteration of a television film and added if this had been done it undoubtedly would have come to their attention. Many of the officials indicated their belief that the story might be a hoax.

The foregoing is being furnished for your information in the event such a distorted film has been produced and is shown in your area for propaganda purposes. Should you become aware of the existence of such a film, you should, of course, advise the Bureau promptly.

It was the consensus of opinion of these officials that the story is possibly a "hoax" as they had many contacts in this particular field and if such an incident took place, it would be a most interesting subject of conversation.

Attached for the Editorial Board's approval is the proposed cover for captioned issue, which we propose to print in full color. The theme of this cover is based on the recent, historic flight of Astronaut Alan B. Shepard, Jr., and will coincide well with our feature article regarding the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and that agency's role in space exploration. We feel that the importance of Astronaut Shepard's accomplishment and the prominence of the space exploration theme merit the distinction of a colored cover.

ALAN ShepardRECOMMENDATION:

That the attached cover be approved for printing in full color and returned to the Crime Research Section for processing.
